About Naseem

Naseem was always beautiful and remarkable, but the depth of her beauty was never more apparent than in the courage with which she faced her illness.

To battle such a serious illness and treatment with its undesirable side effects showed tremendous bravery, dignity and determination. She was an inspiration to the patients she knew at the Hospice Day Centre where she attended weekly.

Naseem's Manx Brain Tumour Charity was set up in October 2009 by Naseem Pishvaie, herself a brain tumour sufferer. Sadly on the very day that Naseem's Charity was inaugurated in the Isle of Man she lost her battle with brain cancer.

Her goal to set up a charity for brain tumour sufferers which included a fund to help them enjoy something that will make a difference to their lives continues under the direction of the Charity's appointed Trustees.

Aims and Objectives

The main aims & objectives of the Charity are to:

- to provide direction for sufferers on where to find support for their condition and information about brain tumours.
- To provide financial assistance to sufferers through a grant application process.
- The Charity are committed to supporting National research into brain tumours and are forging links with other Brain Tumour Charities in the UK.

Who Can Apply

Brain tumour sufferers themselves or someone on their behalf. In some instances we may be able to award a grant to a close family member.

The Charity wishes to make the process of applying for funding as easy as possible with a simple application form. Grants are normally awarded up to a maximum of £500, however, applications above this amount may be considered in exceptional circumstances.

Once you have completed your form please send it to our registered office. Your application will normally be considered by the trustees within 14 working days.

To download an application form visit our website.
